National accounts or national account systems (NAS) are the implementation of complete and consistent accounting techniques for measuring the economic activity of a nation. These include detailed underlying measures that rely on double-entry accounting. By design, such accounting makes the totals on both sides of an account equal even though they each measure different characteristics, for ...

where $(\psi_k)'$ are specified values. Which parameters are fixed, and the levels of the specified values can depend on accounting choices. For example, ψ_2 can be the level of a publicly visible cost which the firm has committed to at date 1, but which is not incurred until date 2. An investor who does not attend neglects the cost and sets $\psi_2 = (\psi_2)' = 0$.
